82nd Congress Opens Up Hot Political Session

Friends Shove Rep. Potter Into Political Spot

By MARION BURSON
WASHINGTON — (P)—Something of a question mark in Michigan politics this election year is Rep. Charles E. Potter of Cheboygan.

Friends want him to run for the Senate. He has blown hot and cold on the idea for several months and still hasn't come up with a decision.

He has a hard choice to make. Representing the heavily Republican 11th district in the Upper Peninsula, Potter could be virtually certain of election to his fourth term in the House. He won by 25,000 votes in 1950.

Risky Business
For a chance at the greater fame attached to being a Senator Potter would have to forfeit the political security he has built up.

Most of those familiar with the situation regard it as highly improbable that Potter, young enough to wait a few years, will engage in such risky business.

But until the 35-year-old World War II veteran speaks up, he definitely remains a senatorial possibility. And certain factors might lead him to take the risk.

Foremost among them is his foreign policy view.

Interviewed upon his return to the capital for the new session of Congress, Potter told a reporter three major issues confront the voters this year: foreign policy, high taxes and economy.

Most important of these is foreign policy, Potter said. He believes Michigan voters are more disturbed about various aspects of the administration's foreign policy than anything else, even re-

Committee Lines Up 1952 Program For Lansing Legislators

LANSING — (P)—A committee of Republican trail-blazers lined up their sights for Wednesday's opening of the 1952 legislature and called for placing state finances on a "pay-as-you-go" basis.

The "program coordinating committee" composed of top G.O.P. legislators, state officials and party leaders issued a four-page list of recommendations to the incoming legislature.

Urging the state's $40,000,000

deficit be retired, the committee called on the lawmakers to "raise sufficient revenue to retire the deficit over a period of years and meet the monetary requirements of the state."

Recommendations on tax changes must await the report of a special committee studying the subject, but the policy-makers urged that "any change in the taxation laws tell the whole story to the people."

The policy committee seemed to duck the proposal for a June primary election by urging a shorter period for certifying nominees so that members of the armed forces would have more time to vote.

The committee proposed that members of families be allowed to obtain absent voter ballots and registration slips for men in the armed forces.

Boost For Bridge
Other committee recommendations:

1—Increased ceilings for Workmen's Compensation and Unemployment Compensation.

2—Open direct relief rolls sufficient to expose "chiselers," but protecting against abuse of the list publication.

3—Increase the amount of outside income which may be earned legally by old age assistance recipients and increase the amount of personal property, now $500 worth, which a recipient may own and be eligible for old age assistance.

4—Speed up the highway construction program, including the Detroit Expressway System and Detroit-to-Chicago Expressway.

5—"Continuation of a program looking toward construction" of a Straits of Mackinac bridge.

6—A $15,000,000 construction program for mental hospitals, including a neuropsychiatric institute at Detroit, expanded children's facilities and expansion of Northville State hospital.

Taft Believes He Has Enough Pledges To Win

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON — (P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) claimed today that if all the pledges he now holds are translated into voting strength he will win the Republican presidential nomination.

That was the Ohioan's answer to the statement of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower that he is a Republican and would respond to a "clearcut call to political duty," but would not personally campaign for the GOP nomination.

Eisenhower supporters jubilantly heralded the statement as assuring the general's nomination and election.

No Delegates Yet
Taft told a reporter he believes this makes Eisenhower only a "draft" possibility, adding:

"If all of the pledges we have obtained from all over the country can be translated into delegates when they are chosen, I believe we have more than half of the convention votes."

The GOP nominating meeting, to be held in Chicago early in July, will have slightly more than 1,200 delegates, with more than 600 votes needed for the nomination. None of the delegates has been formally chosen yet.

Reaction to Eisenhower's statement varied with the political views of the lawmakers involved.

Senator Duff (R-Pa.) said Eisenhower had given to those working for his nomination "a clear cut declaration that he will not let you down."

Controls Asked Over Deer Herd

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
LANSING — (P)—Officially before the legislature today were requests from the State Conservation Commission for broad powers to set deer regulations and to increase some small game seasons.

The decision to renew the request for discretionary power over all game and fish seasons. Commissioner Joseph P. Rahilly, of Newberry, who led the opposition to the extension, said the public was not ready to take the step.

Other proposals approved for submission to the Legislature included a renewed recommendation to lengthen the grouse and rabbit seasons, prohibition of bear trapping except under a nuisance permit, authority to lease state land and authority to charge admission to state parks.

Beaver and other trapping seasons were set for March 27 to April 8 in the Upper Peninsula and March 20 to March 31 in the Lower Peninsula. The Upper Peninsula bag limits were set at six beaver and three otter, and the Lower Peninsula at four beaver and three otter.

Election Year Term May Run Until October

Few Major Bills On The 'Must' List

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON — (P)—Congress reconvened today for an election-year session certain to be studied with controversy over issues on which political fortunes will ride in next November's voting.

The banging of gavels in Senate and House signaled the second meeting for the legislators who make up the 82nd Congress—elected in 1950. They recessed their first session last Oct. 20.

Many of the issues they wrestled with last year confronted them again. Dominant ones are defense spending, universal military training, economic controls, and foreign aid.

Out of how they deal with them will come records to go before the voters in next Fall's election of a president, vice-president, 435 House members and 33 senators.

Kick-Off Tomorrow
Today's meeting was pretty much routine. The real kick-off for the new session will come tomorrow when President Truman will deliver his state-of-the-union message to a joint Senate-House meeting.

This will lay down in at least broad terms what legislation Mr. Truman wants from the session—and lay the basis for scrapping between supporters of his program and its critics.

Aside from legislation, some other politically potent issues are shaping up. One is Mr. Truman's proposal to send an ambassador to the Vatican.

Politically, it may be one of the hottest in decades. Supporters of Senator Taft of Ohio, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and other Republican presidential possibilities already were jockeying for position, and Democrats were countering at every opportunity.

Reds Spurn New UN Proposal To Trade Prisoners

MUNSAN, Korea — (P)—The U. N. command today rephrased its proposal for exchanging prisoners of war and the Reds promptly turned it down.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby, Allied truce negotiator, said the U. N. plan was reworded to "eliminate any ground for technical opposition" by the Communists.

The Reds still objected.

A second truce subcommittee argued nearly two hours over whether the Reds should be allowed to rebuild air fields during an armistice. Neither side changed its views.

Both committees scheduled new sessions for 11 a. m. Wednesday (9 P. M. Tuesday EST) at Panmunjom.

France Left Voiceless By Crash Of Cabinet

By GODFREY ANDERSON
PARIS — (P)—President Vincent Auriol worked today at the task of finding a Prime Minister for France. It looked like the nation would be unable to act decisively on grave international questions for a month or more.

Premier Rene Plevin and his Center-Coalition cabinet resigned last night after a 341-243 defeat in the National Assembly on their 1952 budget proposals. The cabinet remained as a caretaker government until Auriol could find successors.

Most political observers thought the crisis might be a long one, leaving France virtually voiceless and without a government able to make decisions.

One important international question that might be delayed is the formation of a European army, which would put the Germans in uniform again as partners in Western European defense.

The foreign ministers of the six European countries concerned are to meet in Paris only three weeks from now to complete their recommendations in time for submission to the Feb. 2 meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) powers in Lisbon.

Last night's developments made it unlikely that France would be able to speak with authority on such a ticklish question before the deadline.

France already had asked that the NATO meeting be delayed a week to give time for the national assembly to debate the European army proposal.

Israeli Youths Show Nazi Hate
By TED R. LURIE
JERUSALEM — (P)—Lingering hatred of German Nazis fired a mob of 2,000 Israeli youths to storm the Knesset (parliament) last night in a riot which left more than 200 persons injured.

Police fought a two-hour battle with clubs, tear gas and shots fired into the air to keep the mob out of the Knesset session. Ten policemen and five civilians were hospitalized with injuries. Eighty-two other policemen and many more civilians were hurt. Seventy persons suspected of rioting were arrested.

The rioters were protesting a proposal to open direct talks with Germany over claims of about 1½ billion dollars in money and goods for reparations to dispossessed Jews. The claims so far have been pressed only through the Big Four occupying powers in Germany.

Police said the rioters were followers of Menachem Beigin, leader of the Herut party. Herut succeeded the anti-British underground organization, Irgun Zvai Leumi, which carried on a bombing war against British administrators before Israel became independent.

The President was expected to tell the Prime Minister that this country's non-recognition of the Chinese Reds is a firm policy, hardened by their intervention in Korea.

Former Wayne Judge Can't Get Refund On Depression Pay Cut

LANSING — (P)—A former Wayne county circuit judge got a lesson in law from the state supreme court yesterday.

He was Lester S. Moll, prominent attorney, who sued the Wayne county board of auditors for the return of $3,032 in salary which he contributed to the county during a depression-time economy wave.

Legally, the county could not force a judge to take a salary cut, so the Wayne county judges voluntarily handed back $1,300 a year.

The court said that Moll had failed to prove that there was any agreement under which he was to get his contribution back when the economy drive ended. The decision reversed the Wayne county circuit court which awarded Moll the rebate.

Bridges Elected Floor Leader Of G. O. P. Senators

WASHINGTON — (P)—Senator Bridges of New Hampshire was elected floor leader for Republican senators today by a 26 to 15 vote.

He was opposed by Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts, who is publicly backing Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination.

Bridges, who has not yet openly announced for any of his party's presidential aspirants, succeeds the late Senator Wherry of Nebraska as floor leader.

He said before today's election that he would serve as floor leader for only one year.

Recognition Of Red China Comes Up At Churchill Meeting

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON — (P)—Britain's recognition of Communist China was expected to come up today in the globe-girdling talks between President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill.

The President was expected to tell the Prime Minister that this country's non-recognition of the Chinese Reds is a firm policy, hardened by their intervention in Korea.

Thorny Problems
He may suggest that an irritant could be removed from British-American relations if London's recognition of the Peiping government were revoked.

Thorny questions of Iranian oil, Egyptian demands for withdrawal of British troops from the Suez and the problem of security against Communist aggression in Southeast Asia, notably Indo-China and Malaya, as well as progress on the organization of a Middle East command also were believed to be on the slate for today's White House sessions.

Two final meetings were scheduled, beginning at 11 a. m. and 5 p. m. (EST) and lasting about 90 minutes each. A joint statement, reporting on accomplishments, was due to be issued tonight.

Yesterday afternoon's session covered European defense problems. An official statement said crisply that "several military matters were presented and received consideration."

The President and Prime Minister and their diplomatic and military advisers, meeting around a table in the Cabinet room of the White House, were obviously able to hit only the high spots of cold war strategy and other problems in the two days allotted for their intensive discussions.

The "several military matters" discussed yesterday were described as of great secrecy and the decision was made that none of the persons present should talk about them outside the meeting.

Roomer In Detroit Home Missing With 13-Year-Old Girl

DETROIT — (P)—A 31-year-old man, missing since Sunday night with his landlady's 13-year-old daughter, was the object of a widespread police hunt today.

Police Chief George Harmon of suburban Livonia township said factory worker William Pinkerton apparently had abducted Edith Hickman, blonde daughter of Mrs. Olaf Hickman.

The girl's mother said Pinkerton, also known as Richard Davis, left with Edith Sunday evening to drive to Ann Arbor. There they were supposed to visit Edith's father, who is a patient in a hospital there.

Harmon said Davis was driving a 1952 convertible which he had obtained by turning in his car and writing a $1,600 check.

Winchester, Va., bank. Harmon said he learned Pinkerton had no account at the bank.

Public Employee Strikes Illegal

LANSING — (P)—The State Supreme Court, upholding a state law forbidding public employees to strike yesterday cast doubt on the job rights of Detroit Street Railway (DSR) workers who tied up Detroit for seven weeks last spring.

A unanimous opinion written by Associate Justice Walter H. North upheld the constitutionality of the so-called Hutchinson act forbidding public strikes.

The act says that any public employee who strikes loses his job and all rights which go with it. He may be rehired but at no higher wages than he got before. He may not receive a wage increase for a year and he must be kept on probation for two years with no job security.

All those penalties apply to the DSR strikers who walked off the job last April 21 and stayed off until June 18, the court indicated.

The court's opinion did not say whether the strikers could be rehired to their pension rights after they have been rehired and held on probation for a time.

Objectives Won And Lost Again By UN In Korea

SEOUL, Korea — (P)—United Nations infantrymen won their last two important objectives today in the battle of Sasi Bulge, a bitter fight to recapture ground taken by the Reds Dec. 28.

The U. S. Eighth army commander, reporting this, did not identify the western front objectives.

U. N. elements took one after a 15-minute fight with an enemy company and the other after a 10-minute engagement with a Red force of undetermined size.

However, the commander said, two Communist battalions supported by two tanks or self-propelled guns recaptured the first objective in a one-hour and 20 minute clash and a single Red battalion retook the second in a one-hour and 30-minute fray.

U. N. troops just missed recapturing the ground, a small, bald hill west of Korangpo, Monday. They fought through heavy Red fire to within 30 yards of the position before they were thrown back.

New Bill To Classify Reservists Promised

WASHINGTON — (P)—Senator Erlandsen (D-Fla.) said today he would introduce a bill to "end the tepid role of the reservist."

He said his bill would classify reservists so each will know whether he is subject to recall to military duty. It would set at 24 months the limit for involuntary service except in times of war or emergency.

Ready reserves could be recalled by presidential action alone but standby and retired reservists could be recalled only when Congress declares war or an emergency.

Rep. Erlandsen Off To Lansing

The early primary proposal and a movement to take the state out of the liquor business will be two of the major issues before the Michigan Legislature in the session opening Wednesday in Lansing, State Rep. Einar Erlandsen said today. Rep. Erlandsen and family left for Lansing, where they will reside during the legislative session.

Erlandsen indicated personal opposition to both proposals. The Delta county legislator reported that the Department of Defense has informed lawmakers that a maximum of 20 days is needed to get election ballots to soldiers in Korea and return. On this basis, there is no necessity for an early primary, Erlandsen said.

Rep. Erlandsen is also opposed to the proposal to take the state out of the liquor business.

"The state monopoly system has prevented abuses in liquor traffic and it likewise brings considerable revenue that is needed for state government," Erlandsen said.

The legislative session opening this week is the first under the constitutional revision approved by Michigan voters which provides for annual legislative sessions. Previously the Legislature met in regular session biennially. Other sessions were by call of the governor who could determine specific legislation to be considered.

More Divorces And Fewer Marriages For Delta In 1951

There were slightly fewer marriages and a few more divorces in Delta county in 1951 than in 1950—but neither year approached the high figures in both union and disunion recorded in the first post-war year of 1946.

Records in the office of Delta County Clerk Mary Constantineau show there were 288 marriages in the 1951 calendar year.

Predictably, the month of June was the time the greatest number of marriage licenses were filed in the Clerk's office.

The 1951 figure is 21 licenses lower than last year's and the lowest since 1945. 1946 was the highest in the last ten years with 41, almost double the figures of many preceding years.

On the disunion side, divorces in Delta county during 1951 numbered 47. This figure is five units higher than last year's, and nearly one-half of the 1946 figure, 94.

There were 3,168 marriages in Delta county in the last ten years and 389 divorces.

Menominee Spud Champion Gives Tips On Culture

EAST LANSING—(P)—Some tips on how to grow a record crop of potatoes were offered today by D. L. Clananah, Michigan state college farm crops specialist.

The MSC expert received his information from Rene Van Acker of Wallace, Menominee county, who grew a record crop of 1061.4 bushels of potatoes to the acre on an eight acre field.

Clananah said the Menominee county farmer took special care to control weeds and pests and fertilized heavily.

The field got 15 loads of barnyard manure to the acre in the fall of 1950 and an additional 15 loads the following spring. Before planting, 200 pounds of 0-20-20 fertilizer per acre was applied. At planting time, 1,000 pounds per acre of 3-12-12 commercial fertilizer was applied.

Green manure also was added. The field was seeded to sweet clover and oats in 1950 and the crop got 300 pounds per acre of 3-12-12 commercial fertilizer. The sweet clover green manure crop was plowed under on May 25, 1951, and potatoes were planted three days later.

Van Acker dragged the field six times before plowing. He controlled weeds during the growing season by going over it twice with a weeder and three times with a cultivator.

Van Acker grew Russett Rurals. He planted them 12½ inches apart in rows 32 inches apart. He planted 31 bushels of seed per acre. He sprayed with dithane 10 times to control blight and four times with DDT to control insects.

Milwaukee Man Gets 3-Year Prison Term In $61,000 Tax Fraud

MILWAUKEE—(P)—Michael Shapiro, a prominent Milwaukee businessman, was sentenced to prison yesterday by a federal judge who declared "there is no longer any back door into the tax department at Washington or into the federal court."

Shapiro, 54, was accused of helping his wife prepare fraudulent 1944 income tax returns to avoid about $61,000 in taxes. He drew a three year term and a $10,000 fine after pleading no contest.

His attorney asked why the government had waited four and a half years before bringing charges.

"I don't know," said Judge Patrick T. Stone, "unless one can judge by some of the things that seem to have been happening in Caudle's office, where tax cases were continued until the statute of limitations had run out."

President Truman recently fired T. Lamar Caudle, former chief counsel of the tax section of the justice department, following charges of irregularities among tax enforcement officials.

Rail Motorcars Are Modernized

Old-time gandy dancers—section workers, in other words—probably would regard present railroad working conditions as smacking of Utopia.

Gone are the old handcar and the dollar a day wage. Section hands no longer have to pump energetically to negotiate steep grades on the way to work; grades that seemed to be even steeper on the way home after 10 to 12 hours of track repair work.

Now, section workers ride on track motorcars, which travel 15 to 25 miles per hour. And as the result of a new Michigan law, which went into effect Jan. 1, 1952, they'll be riding in more comfort in the future.

The Michigan legislature has decreed that all railroad motorcars must be equipped with tops and windshields to protect the riders from wind, snow and rain. The Chicago and North Western railway is installing tops on about 60 cars used on the Peninsula division, according to Les Deno, Escanaba, division engineer.

About a year ago, the C&NW railway equipped all its motorcars with headlights in compliance with a new state law.

Motorcars are used by section crews, roadmasters, bridge and building crews, signal and line maintenance men.

Incidentally, there's only one old-fashioned hand-pumper car in operation on the entire Chicago and North Western railway system. It's a light vehicle employed for special patrol work at the Chicago terminal.

County Manager Plan Proposed

Supervisor-manager government for Michigan counties, proposed in connection with county government reforms, will be discussed Wednesday evening, Jan. 9, at a meeting of the Delta County Planning committee.

Charles Burton of Gladstone, committee chairman, will preside at the meeting following a 6:30 o'clock dinner at the Delta hotel. The meeting is open to interested persons who may come as late as 7:30 p. m.

Charles Folio, chairman of the sub-committee on county government, reported that a film "County Manager Government" will be presented starting at 8 p. m.

The Citizens Research Council of Michigan has requested the Delta County Planning committee to cooperate toward the possible submission of an amendment for county government reform at next fall's election. A vote of the people of Michigan to amend the state constitution and of individual counties would be required to adopt any reform.

Other members of the County Planning committee's sub-committee on county government are Atty. James E. Fitzharris, George Ruwitch and Clint Dunathan of Escanaba, and Ronald Watson of Gladstone.

The executive committee of the County Planning committee comprises Chairman Burton, J. L. Heirman, Harold Gustafson of Ensign, Charles Gessner, and Folio. The executive committee will meet with the sub-committee and other interested persons in the discussion of supervisor-manager county government.

THE PRESSURE IS ON TO GET IN THE SCRAP—One minute it's an auto junkyard collector's item and the next it's a square block of almost-solid metal, weighing about 400 pounds and easily manageable for loading onto a railroad car. Here at a scrap yard in Newark, N. J.,

Husband Gets $8,800 His Wife Salted Down

LANSING—(AP)—A Fremont factory worker who turned his pay check over to his wife and got along on a $2 a week allowance got his reward from the state supreme court.

The court said Lloyd McEuen could keep $8,800 he found in a coffee can in his home after his wife, Julia, died.

This overruled a trial court decision that he must split the money with his sister-in-law, Mae Henning of Grand Rapids, who claimed it was all her sister's money and due her.

The court said that Mrs. McEuen was accustomed to "salting down" the money she and her husband earned at the Gerber products plant. The court's computation showed that the $8,800 was about what she would have saved from their joint wages—minus the $2 a week Lloyd spent.

Subsidizing Engineering Schools Increases, Not Solves, Problem

THE acute shortage of engineers—electrical, mechanical, chemical and civil—has brought forth a proposal that the federal government subsidize the training of engineers. It is inevitable, of course, that such a solution to the problem would be suggested because it is, theoretically, the easy way out. We have reached a point in our thinking where we look to Washington for the financial solution to every problem.

Product Engineering, a trade magazine of the engineering profession, characterizes the proposed cure—federal subsidies—as worse than the sickness.

“The present financial difficulties of the colleges are caused by the taxes demanded by the trends toward socialism, the heavy tax burden to support subsidies, and the

Free World Must Face Reality in 1952

ADDRESSING the Jewish War Veterans at their annual award dinner in New York, at which he received the organization's 1951 gold medal for his fight against Communist expansion, Secretary of State Dean Acheson reviewed America's foreign policy and gave his estimate of 1952.

The new year, he said, would be a most critical one, but he optimistically predicted that the free world would gain the power to take or withhold action “which will have a decisive effect upon the cause of peace.”

In his year-end review, he concluded losses and gains for the U. S. and her western Allies, but felt that the gains outweighed the losses to the extent that at the year's end “We are better off than we were a year ago.” The assumption is that his optimistic prediction for 1952 is based on the gains he has totted up for 1951.

The word “gains” is relative. It may mean advances over the dark days of 1950. There is no disputing that the outlook now is considerably brighter than it was then. But the real question seems to be, not whether we made gains in 1951, but whether those gains were as great as they might have been if the leaders of the so-called free world and the masses of people behind them had taken a more realistic view of the crisis facing humanity.

There seem to be two factors slowing the march along the road to peace and the restraint of the Communist tyrants. One is the attitude of our European allies. They have lagged in contributing to their own defensive forces. With few exceptions, the member countries of the UN have contributed only token assistance to the U. S. in the shooting war against communism in Korea.

Correspondents and other observers view with alarm a debilitating growth of “neutrality.” Europe is not lacking in perspicacious leaders who can read the handwriting on the wall. But for the sake of their own political skins, many seem afraid to tell their people the unpleasant facts of life. They seem content to let the U. S. carry the load.

And here, at home, there seems to be a corresponding refusal to face reality. It is becoming increasingly apparent that the U. S., with its vast natural resources, its industrial plant and potential, its native energy and great wealth is the only nation that can, with any adequate speed, gain the strength necessary to defend ourselves—and incidentally, our Allies—against Communist aggression in a final showdown.

But we can't do that and have “business as usual.” Since the Korean war started, we have been building up our defensive armaments side by side with uninterrupted production of consumer goods. To many observers it became clear in 1951 that this “guns and butter” philosophy is not doing the trick. Americans must face the painful fact that there will simply have to be less butter and more guns.

So it seems to us that if Secretary Acheson's prediction of Stalin-stopping strength in 1952 is to come true, the new year will have to go down in history as a turning point. A point where we and our Allies roused from the torpor of “business and politics as usual” and finally took a clear, realistic look at the task before us.

The Doctor Says

Mentally Retarded Present Serious, Complicated Problems

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — — — Written for NEA Service

L. V. brings up the question of mental development. She says: “What age of mind does a 28-year-old woman have with an I. Q. of 88? Does she have a fully developed mind and can she be expected to finish high school?”

Sadly, the answer is that this woman does not have a fully developed mind, and almost certainly cannot finish high school.

The problem of the imperfectly developed mind, or the mentally retarded, is a serious one. There are supposed to be about one and one-half million citizens of the United States who are mentally retarded, about one-tenth of whom are in special training schools or other institutions.

The problem is a complicated one and only a little of it can be explained in this column.

The ability to learn is expressed as the intelligence quotient or “I. Q.” It is usually figured by dividing the mental age (as calculated from one or more intelligence tests), by the actual age of the child and multiplying the result by 100.

Thus, if a six-year-old child has a mental age of three, the intelligence quotient would be called 50; if, on the other hand, a child of nine has the “intelligence” of a child of twelve, the intelligence quotient would be 133.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—At a private Christmas holiday party at Independence, Mo., President Truman let drop the most definite hint so far as to whether he will run for a third term.

“Grover Cleveland's greatest mistake,” he said, “was to run again. He would have been a great president but for that.”

Meanwhile close friends have found the president so tired, so worried and so upset over those in his administration who have let him down, that they haven't had the heart to tell him how low his stock has dropped throughout the country.

Those gathered with him at a family party in Independence, however, found the president relaxed for the first time in weeks. He joked, gossiped and enjoyed himself—though tensing when somebody mentioned the press.

Mrs. Truman, who was looking better than ever, dropped a necklace. It had become unfastened from around her neck.

“When I don't put her together, she comes apart,” remarked her husband, stopping to pick it up.

“I envied you those turtle steaks in Florida,” suggested a friend.

“You can have all the turtles, sharks and snake meat,” the president shot back. “Just give me an old-fashioned Kansas City steak.”

When someone asked him about Life's article on his loud shirts and Florida wardrobe, Truman replied that the magazine was trying to belittle him. “A few years ago they called me the best-dressed man in the United States,” he said.

“What do you think of the Kansas City Star?” someone asked.

“Don't answer that one,” Mrs. Truman cautioned quickly, doubtless remembering what her husband had said on previous occasions regarding his old friend, Roy Roberts, the Star's publisher.

Margaret looked especially well at the party. She has lost about ten pounds and benefited from the Parisian gowns picked for her by svelte Helle Bonnet, wife of the French ambassador.

UNDER THE DOME

Senator Estes Kefauver, who will soon officially throw his hat in the ring for president, turned thumbs down on a novel campaign button. It had the coonskin cap that his become his campaign symbol and the words, “Coonskin, not mink.”

Governor Tom Dewey is sending ex-New Deal columnist Jay Franklin to Washington to watch-dog the Eisenhower-for-President headquarters. Dewey is unhappy over certain statements of Senators Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., and Jim Duff, and thinks Franklin should quietly take over public relations. The onetime columnist wrote speeches and statements for President Truman in 1948, and was tossed out of the inner circle because of the jealousy of White House cronies. Officially, Franklin will be on the staff of Senator Irving Ives of New York.

HUNGARIAN HIGHHANDEDNESS

Though it was no time for milk-toast diplomacy, our charge d'affaires almost apologized to the Hungarians for the heat which the American public was putting on the State Department over the incident of the four imprisoned fliers.

The State Department has discreetly kept this part of its negotiations secret. However, this column is able to report the first meek moves by our embassy in Budapest to free the four airmen.

Our protest was entrusted to George Abbott, American charge d'affaires, who hiked over to the Hungarian foreign office to deliver it. What he got was the diplomatic run around. He couldn't even find anyone to protest to. Result was that he ended up far down the Hungarian diplomatic ladder talking to Endre Sik, an adviser on political affairs.

The Hungarian seemed amused at Abbott's frantic efforts to deliver his protest. “Have you no patience?” Sik shrugged.

“Yes, I have patience, but the American people and the press are aroused over this case,” replied Abbott.

Then he pointed out that Sik had once served in Washington and ought to know the effect of public opinion on U. S. policy.

“I should have no need to lecture you on the effect of an aroused American press and public on the policy-making machinery,” Abbott explained.

The public knows the rest of the story—how the Communist government held the four American airmen for $120,000 blackmail. Since then, the Communists are whispering around Europe that the United States can't even protect its own citizens, let alone European nationals.

Note—Meanwhile, Hungary continues to keep as its minister in Washington, Dr. Emil Weil, the physician who directed the drugging of Cardinal Mindszenty at one of the most famous trials in Communist history. Letters are now pouring in to Washington urging that Dr. Weil be recalled.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

London—The Russians were threatening the entire surviving German army of the Crimea and were smashing forward in every other vital area along a battle-line extending to the far northern Finnish front.

Washington, D. C.—President Roosevelt requested $9 billion in new taxes from the American taxpayer on top of an estimated $7 billion to be gained from current levies.

Detroit—Former Mayor Richard W. Reading was convicted of accepting thousands of dollars to protect a numbers and policy racket and was sentenced to four-to-five years in prison.

Escanaba—Coach Bert Henne and five members of the Escanaba high school debate squad were in the final tournament of the U. P. debate league at Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette.

20 YEARS AGO

Washington, D. C.—An army of jobless men, headed by Rev. James R. Cox, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic church in Pittsburgh, marched for Washington to appeal to the federal government for aid.

Escanaba—Under a plan adopted by the city council, employment for several months for the city's jobless was to be provided in the proposed construction of extensive playgrounds and parks in North Escanaba and in the western section of the city and in the reclamation of land off the shore of Ludington park.

The Man Who Came to Dinner

Russians Try To Keep It Quiet; But Radio Free Europe Tells It

By WADE JONES

NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The Communist-controlled Budapest radio used to broadcast the daily temperature to Hungarians. It doesn't any more.

A sexy-looking Czech temptress called Comrade Czeslona used to turn on the charm to get young men in Bratislava to become informers for the Czech secret police. She doesn't any more.

Ana Paukeh, the Romanian Communist leader, used to hop up to Paris and buy expensive Jacques Fath hats. She probably won't do it any more.

And the two spying Code brothers of Dacice, Czechoslovakia, have been beaten so much lately they must feel like gongs.

These apparently unconnected happenings behind the Iron Curtain in Eastern Europe actually have one thing in common. They were brought about by an organization called Radio Free Europe.

RFE's main job is to tell the people of Eastern Europe those things which their Russian overlords would like most to keep from them. The incidents just related are typical of how RFE operates.

The Budapest radio gave the temperature so listeners could know whether it was cold enough to turn on the heat in their homes. Because of the coal shortage in Hungary, the people are not allowed to have heat in their homes at any time if the temperature is 50 or more. And if it's below 50 they can have heat only between 11 a. m. and 9 p. m.

But the Budapest radio fudged a little. It would say the temperature was in the 50's when actually it was in the 40's.

So, since weather data is one thing that slips freely through the Iron Curtain, RFE told the Hungarian people every day what their temperature really was. The Budapest radio knew when it was licked, and pretty soon stopped broadcasting the temperature altogether.

After RFE told the people of Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, that Comrade Absolonova was a “dangerous agent,” the Comrade was seen around Bratislava no more.

It probably didn't help Ana Pauker's stock any when RFE told the poverty-haunted Romanians that the Communist FREEDOM PROPAGANDA with insight is easy for RFE, since programs are produced by Iron Curtain refugees who know what they're talking about. Here Dezso Albrecht, editor; Gyula Dessewffy, head of Hungarian desk, and Sandor Marai, Hungary's greatest living author, confer on a program to be aimed back home.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE TRAVELERS—A number of Delta county residents are in Florida or California this winter, but the most extended trip is being made by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barron of Flat Rock.

They are in Australia, where Frank, successful Delta county farmer, is studying sheep raising. The Barrons left home in November, have done most of their traveling by plane, and crossed the Pacific in six hops—including a stop in Hawaii.

In the fabled isles of hula Frank persuaded his wife to join him in donning grass skirts, strictly for picture purposes. The photographs sent home to friends in Delta county have become prized possessions.

Latest word from Frank comes in a letter from Victoria, Australia, written two days before Christmas.

TOURING AUSTRALIA — Frank's report of his tour “down under” is presented in his own rapid-fire style.

“Arrived Australia last night. We left Sydney after dark and flew over town. Very pretty at night. Also flew over Melbourne.

“We stayed 20 days in New Zealand. Very nice country. Two million people.

“We flew 3,000 miles from Los Angeles, Cal., to Melbourne and made it in six hops. I also traveled 500 miles in the Hawaiian Islands by plane and 700 by car. In New Zealand drove 1,700 miles in rented car, 500 miles with government car as guest of New Zealand, also 400 miles by boat to the South Islands of New Zealand.

“Figuring 2,600 miles from Escanaba to Los Angeles, it makes a total so far of 14,500 miles. Not bad for 41 days. Expect to travel 30,000 miles before arriving home again.”

RAILROADS AND PICTURES — “Rail roads in New Zealand three feet six inches wide. Small freight cars about one-quarter the size of those on the E. & L. S.

“We rode on the passenger cars twice. On one side of the coach is two seats, on the other side one seat. I suppose that one seat is for the mother-in-law to sit in.

“I sent the Junior high school some very interesting pictures of New Zealand. You should go and see them.”

RATES AND AGRICULTURE — A potato farmer himself, Frank continues his letter with the statement:

“Potatoes $5.75 per bushel in New Zealand. Strawberries 90 cents per quart and this is the strawberry season.

“Hotel rates very cheap and the average is about $7.20 for two meals and a night's lodging. The food is plentiful and a lumberjack would have some of the meal left over.

“Some of the hotels were eight stories high. Only three had locks on the doors. Honest people. Never lost anything.

“Met Mr. Foster of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in New Zealand and he put me on the right track to have me taken around by agricultural men. They were with me for seven days.

“We went from Auckland to Sydney on a flying boat, landing there in the bay and were taken to shore in small boats.”

SWIFT AND SLOW—A keen observer, Frank quickly noted two unusual factors in Australia's transportation picture. One made for modern speed, the other for antiquated slowness. He continues:

“One hundred and thirty planes left Melbourne today. The radio said tomorrow there will be one plane leaving every five minutes. Pretty busy.

“Australia has three different railroad gauges—one five feet six inches, one four feet eight and one-half inches, and one three feet six inches. So when they come to a different state they have to unload freight from one railroad to another. One hundred years behind the times.”

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

WORDS OF IDENTICAL MEANING

The owner of a fleet of oil trucks was asked one day why the rear of some of his trucks carried the word “flammable” while others bore the shorter word “flammable.” His jocular answer was, “I guess there just wasn't room for ‘flammable.’” That answer is about as good as any. There is no need for the word “flammable” (FLAM-uh-bil), for its meaning is still exactly that of the older word, “inflammable.” It made its first appearance in our language about a hundred and fifty years ago, and, as there was no need for it, it fell out of use. Since 1900, however, chiefly through the National Fire Protection Association, “flammable” has come back into the language, although its meaning is the same as that of “inflammable,” easily set on fire, highly combustible.

The reason given at one time for the restoration of “flammable” was that foreign-born persons think that “inflammable” means “not combustible,” because the prefix “in-” so often means “not,” as in such words as inartistic, inattentive, incorrect, incurable, and so forth. That reason is not very convincing in view of the fact that the French have inflammable, the Spanish have “inflammable,” the Italians have “inflammabile,” the Portuguese have “inflamavel,” all meaning “inflammable.” Nor is it very difficult for those persons whose native language is not based on Latin to learn that an “inflamed finger” feels like the finger was afire not that it does not burn.

The Latin verbs “flammo” and “inflammo” did have slightly differing meanings — “to burn” and “to cause to burn” respectively. But their English derivatives did not keep that slight difference.

Little Radio Jails Negro Three Times

EVANSTON, Ill.—(AP)—A small table model radio sings a siren song to Norwood Hadley. It has crooned him into the toils of the law for the third time.

Hadley, a 22 year old Negro, fell in love with the radio in an Evanston coal company's office, when he went to work there in July, 1948.

The radio disappeared. Detective Sigmund Wroblewski found it with Hadley and the youth confided his affection for it. Hadley was put on probation.

Seven months later, the radio vanished again. Wroblewski's memory was long. That time, Hadley was sent to the Pontiac, Ill., reformatory.

The same radio was missing again last Friday, and Wroblewski found its recovery no problem. He looked up Hadley and got this explanation:

"I've heard a lot of radio tones x x xx but there's just no tone to equal that little radio. Even when I was in jail I was lonesome for it. All I thought about was some way to get that radio—without being caught."

Negro Who Composed 'Sound Off' Chant Gets Carver Award

JOPLIN, Mo.—(AP)—The first annual George Washington Carver achievement award went to a young Negro who originated the famous army marching song, "Sound Off."

Willie Lee Duckworth of Sandersville, Ga., received the award Saturday. He composed the chant during World War II while in training at Ft. Slocum, N. Y.

The presentation was made during a program commemorating the birthday anniversary of Carver. The noted Negro scientist was born a slave near Diamond, Mo. His homesite is being made into a national monument.

California Has More U. S. Workers Than Washington

WASHINGTON—Where would you find the most federal government workers?

Oddly enough the answer, a compilation by the Civil Service Commission, showed today is California—not Washington, D. C.

It is the first time that federal employees in a single state outnumber those in the nation's capital.

The figures, based partially on estimates, show the Pacific coast state had 252,000 federal employees on Sept. 30. The Washington area, including not only the District of Columbia but also nearby sections of Virginia and Maryland, had 249,900.

The government payroll on that date totaled 2,503,691, of which 173,349 were outside the continental United States.

California's huge total, the commission said, reflects the emphasis on the nation's defense effort. About 50,000 civilian employees have been added to military departments there in the past year.

New York, with 193,700, ranked second among the states. Others ranking high were Pennsylvania, third with 149,900; Texas, fourth with 116,500; Illinois, fifth with 109,900; and Ohio, sixth with 108,300.

Michigan had 44,937.

America spends about $24,000,000 annually for perumes, bath salts, and toilet waters.

Small Colleges Face Worst Money Crisis; One Group Adopts 'Community Chest' Idea

By JAY HEAVILIN
NEA Staff Correspondent
CLEVELAND—(NER)—Caught in the crush of rising costs, low endowment returns and declining enrollment, small colleges across the nation are facing the most severe financial crisis in their history.

More than one-fourth of the nation's colleges are operating in the red. There is every indication costs will continue to soar. Enrollments, down 10 per cent from last year, are expected to dip even lower as calls to military service and the attractions of defense work increase.

Is there a cure for the financial "sickness" threatening the survival of colleges not supported by taxes? The colleges of Ohio think they have found one.

Their prescription, in the words of Otterbein College's Dr. J. Gordon Howard, President of the Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges, is: "A collegiate adaptation of the Community Chest idea."

The Ohio Foundation is just that. Nineteen of Ohio's 36 privately-supported colleges have banded together to seek funds from business and industry. Because one gift will mean money for many, the Foundation expects to eliminate competitive fund-raising campaigns.

To knock at the door of big business was a logical decision. Business and industry receive nearly 80 per cent of their top leadership from liberal arts colleges. In addition, colleges open up new demands for industry's products and services by encouraging a higher standard of living.

In many respects, industry also represents what Howard calls the colleges' "last hope." Higher income taxes have made it more difficult to obtain substantial gifts from individuals and support by government subsidy carries with it the threat of political control.

Moreover, contributing to colleges is sound business for corporations.

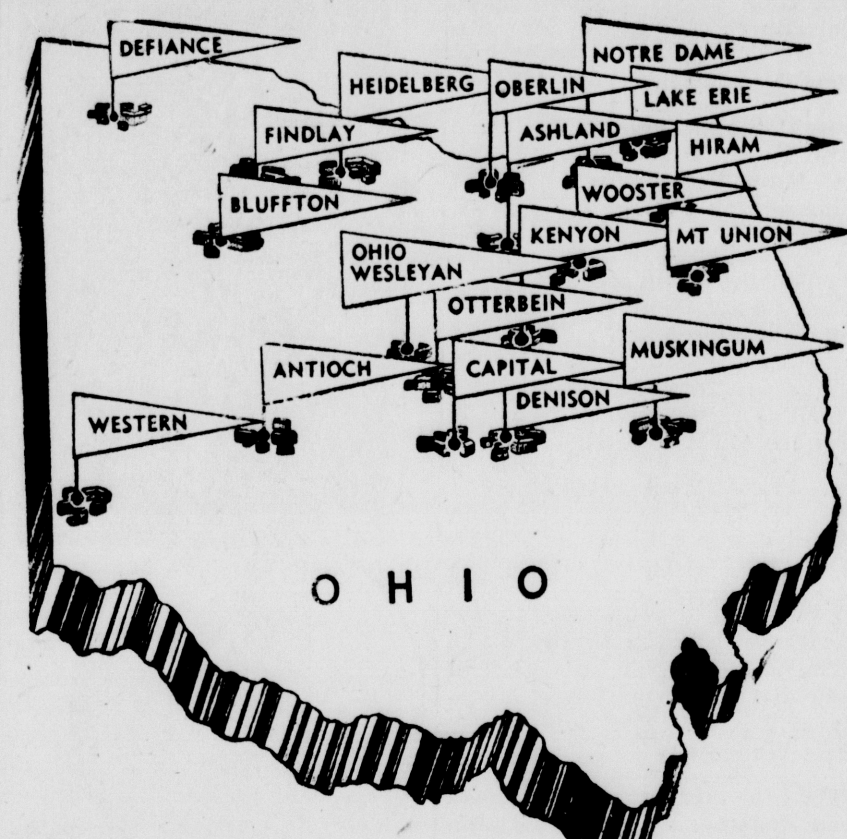

Under the present federal tax structure, a corporation may deduct five per cent from net earnings before taxes for contributions to colleges. Thus most of a corporation's gift comes out of profits which otherwise would go for taxes.

The bargain aspects of corporate contributions help account for the fact that in the first month of their campaign (November, 1951), the Foundation collected $50,000. Another important factor is the Foundation's insistence that soliciting be done by the college presidents themselves, not by professional "go-betweeners."

The contribution itself must be investigated by the Foundation's Board of Directors to make sure no strings are attached to the gift. Once approved, the gift is distributed among the member colleges, as financial aid for operating expenses only.

The idea did not originate in Ohio; similar efforts have been reported in Michigan, Indiana, Minnesota and Illinois. But the Foundation has attracted widespread interest as the largest project of its kind.

UNITED FOR FINANCES, these 19 colleges shown on map of Ohio have banded together for a unique way of raising funds.

Traffic Smashups And Fire Take 11 Lives In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)

Eleven persons met death violently in Michigan over the weekend—in fire and traffic smashups. The victims included four who died in another of a recent series of bad collisions involving teen-agers.

Fire that raced through a six-bedroom dwelling in midtown Detroit Sunday night killed four persons and burned a fifth seriously.

The flames, apparently started by an overheated stove, burned to death William Collins, 49; Horace Johnson, 56; Ted Stafford, 45, and Mrs. Mamie Jackson, 48. All were Negroes.

Mrs. Jackson's husband, Joseph, 59, told police he awoke to find the building, a converted garage, in flames, and rushed out to get aid. He was burned on the hands, feet and head.

A traffic crash described by Livonia (Wayne County) police as "the most gruesome within memory" killed four persons and critically injured four more Saturday night.

Officers said a car carrying four teen-agers ran a stop sign at an intersection in the Detroit suburb and crashed with an auto driven by Charles Balhorn, 28, of Detroit. Balhorn's wife, Catherine, 28, their four-year-old son, Charles, Jr., and two of the teen-agers, Sue Duncan 16, and Carol O'Chotny, 14, both of Detroit, lost their lives.

It has been estimated that the American public spends more than $50,000,000,000 annually to live.

Michigan Bell Refund Upheld

LANSING—(AP)—The state supreme court today upheld a state public service commission order which requires the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to refund $10,080,000 to certain customers in 43 communities.

The court sustained the commission's order issued in 1945 to cut phone rates approximately $3,500,000 a year.

The actual reduction ran from Jan. 1, 1946 to Oct. 14, 1948 when the commission allowed the company to raise its rates more than $8,000,000 a year.

The company has been under bond to protect the accumulated $10,080,000 during nearly five years of litigation.

Michigan Bell said the refund applied to these exchanges:

Detroit, Albion, Ann Arbor, Battle Creek, Bay City, Big Rapids, Benton Harbor, Birmingham, Cadillac, Calumet, Centerline, Cheboygan, Charlotte, Flint, Ionia, Grand Rapids, Greenville, Hillsdale, Iron Mountain, Ironwood, Iron River, Ishpeming, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Livonia, Manistee, Marshall, Menominee, Monroe, Mt. Clemens, Niles, Petoskey, Northville, Pontiac, Port Huron, Roseville, Royal Oak, Saginaw, St. Joseph, Southfield, Wyandotte and Ypsilanti.

A company statement said the refunds would not be uniform because in some exchanges they affect only one type of service.

Highest point in Oregon is Mount Hood, 11,245 feet above sea level.

Potters Suggests Senator Ferguson As Favorite Son

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Senator Ferguson was suggested today as a Michigan favorite son candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I would like to see the Michigan delegation go to the convention with Senator Ferguson as their favorite son candidate," Rep. P. Potter (R-Mich) told a reporter.

"The honor is due him. If there is a deadlock, Senator Ferguson would make just as good a darkhorse candidate as any one I've heard mentioned." Potter said Ferguson's views are "straight down the middle" and representative of Republicans generally.

A 35-year-old World War II veteran who lost the lower part of both legs fighting in France, Potter himself has been mentioned as a possible contender for the Senate seat of the late Arthur Vandenberg (R).

The seat now is held by Blair Moody, a Democrat who was appointed by Gov. G. Mennen Williams to serve until after the November election. Moody is a candidate for a full six-year term.

a Series of Four Lectures for Women on Financial Topics

PURPOSE OF MEETINGS

The Women's Finance Forum was originally conceived as a public service to women seeking practical instruction in the fundamentals of personal financial planning.

Child And Baby Sitter Entitled To Fair Play

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
(P) Newsfeatures Writer

Parents should cooperate with their baby sitters if they want them to do a good job and if they want their babies to remain content and unafraid while they are out.

All too often, says the National Kindergarten Association, parents think they must sneak out of the house to avoid baby crying when he sees them leave.

One mother, for example, had the baby sitter take the child into the back yard while she slipped out the front door to go to a luncheon. When the baby and sitter came back into the house, the baby ran from room to room looking for her. He kept calling her name, becoming more and more disappointed at not finding her. When he realized at last that his mother wasn't there, he cried so hard that he couldn't enjoy his lunch. The baby sitter tried to divert his attention, and was quiet and gentle with him as she could be, but she couldn't comfort him. He finally sobbed himself to sleep.

Of course, not all mothers are like this. Most baby sitters fervently hope though that they had more parents who understood just how to prepare junior for a baby sitter.

Mrs. X is an example of a mother baby sitters like. For example:

When Mrs. X called a baby sitter for the first time she asked her to stay with her child all of one Saturday afternoon and evening. Not only did she want to become acquainted with her new baby sitter but she wanted the child to learn to know her, too.

The baby was playing in a sand box when the baby sitter arrived. Mrs. X took her out and presented the child to her just as if they were both grownups. She explained to junior:

"Baby Sitter is going to stay with you today while Mother goes to town to meet Daddy to see about some chairs. I want you, please, to take Baby Sitter into the house and show her where you sleep."

The two-year-old child took Baby Sitter's hand and led her in to show her his bed and toys. In the meantime his mother placed some food for them in the refrigerator where it could be found easily. Mrs. X told Baby Sitter at what time junior was in the habit of taking his nap and going to bed and where his picture books are kept. She even laid out some good magazines that Baby Sitter could read after junior had gone to sleep.

When Mrs. X said goodbye to the little boy, she made it clear to him that she would not return before he went to sleep that night but she would be there in the morning when he woke up.

The child was content, because he understood that he was to stay with Baby Sitter.

NEW YORK—(NEA)— Plaids, as seen in the cotton coming through for cruise wear, are fashion news. It's not just because they're plaids since plaids are always with us in some form. It's because they've taken on a new sophistication.

These plaids for resort wear are bold and handsome. They present new and striking color combinations, as when beige, black and white are used together. This is plaid that's fresh and sparkling, free from hackneyed ideas about what plaid should be.

Dark plaids look new, too, particularly when they're overlaid with touches of clean white in lapels or cuffs. Deep purple is a ready foil for white and so are the browns and dark blues.

A bold plaid (right) is done in the new black, beige and white combination. This is a simple shirt-waist dress with full skirt, shirred sleeves and bow tied neckline. The design makes the most of the plaid, which is in a Dan River cotton. It will, its makers claim, shed wrinkles and remain permanently porous.

A second plaid with these same qualities (left) is cut into a sleeveless dress with matching bolero. Both are in a deep purple. The dress has wide lapels of white pique and a full, graceful skirt that hides roomy side pockets. The white touch appears again in the jacket cuffs.

Your Income Tax Primer

Most Self-Employed Persons Now Pay Special Tax

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the sixth of 13 authoritative easy-to-follow articles in NEA's 11th annual Income Tax Primer — expert advice for the average taxpayer on handling every item of his return with the least effort, greatest accuracy — and minimum payment. The author Richard A. Mullens, is a ranking Washington tax authority and a graduate of the same training course given Federal agents who scan your own return.

NEA Special Correspondent

In 1951 for the first time most self-employed persons will have to pay a special self-employment tax in addition to their income tax. It must be reported and paid with the 1951 income tax.

If you buy the same social security that employees get.

A new section added at the bottom of the separate Schedule C tells how to compute the self-employment (or social security) tax.

The new tax does not concern you if you had no income from a partnership, business or profession. And many people with such income are not subject to the tax, including most professional persons, ministers and farmers. A complete list of people and income not subject to the tax is shown on the back of Schedule C.

Note that you may have self-employment income as a member of a partnership. Partnership income itself is computed on a separate return (Form 1065). This is an information return which shows how the partnership income is divided among the partners. Each partner then reports his share of the income on Form 1040 where it becomes part of his taxable income.

Let's assume you have income from a business, profession or partnership and it is not the type of income listed under "Exclusions" on the back of Schedule C. Such income must be entered on lines 25 and 26 of the schedule. Follow the instructions for filling in the rest of the lines and you will arrive at the amount of self-employment tax.

The tax will never be more than $81.00. It will be less if your self-employment income is less than $3600 or if you had wages from which social security tax was deducted.

We have already explained briefly how a 1951 loss from your business or profession could be applied against any other taxable income. Here is additional information on how such a loss may also reduce your income tax for other years:

If your business deductions exceed your business income, you have a loss. For example, suppose your total income in 1951 from a small business was $5000 and you had business expenses of $10,000. You have a $5000 loss.

TAXES ARE SO HIGH I CAN'T SAVE ANYTHING FOR RETIREMENT. NOW I GET SOAKED AN EXTRA TAX FOR SOCIAL SECURITY!

THAT NEW SOCIAL SECURITY TAX GIVES ME A LOT OF BENEFITS

called a net operating loss which can be deducted from any other 1951 income. Suppose you had $1000 other income. This is offset by your $5000 loss, leaving you with no income and income tax to pay for 1951.

But that isn't all the benefit you can get from such a loss. After deducting your 1951 other income you still have $4000 of the loss remaining. This can be used to get back the tax on $4000 of your income in 1950. If there is still some loss left after deducting your 1950 income, you can use the remainder to apply against income in 1952 and so on through 1956.

That is the theory of net operating losses. In practice, some taxpayers may have special circumstances which require adjustments to the losses. If you have a loss, it is advisable to check the computation with your collector or tax adviser.

The next article explains capital gains and losses. It will tell about the new tax break for those people who sell their old residence and buy a new one within a year.

Tax Primer Q. & A.

Q. I have to pay a self-employment tax of $81. I did not include this tax when I filed my declaration of estimated tax for 1951. Will I be penalized for underestimating my tax?

A. No.

Q. I work for the XYZ Co. I spent $500 more in 1951 than I earned. Do I have a net operating loss?

A. No. You have to be in business or suffer a casualty loss to have what is called a net operating loss.

Q. I am a member of a partnership that made money, filed a return yet paid no income tax. How come?

A. Partnership income is divided among the partners and taxed to them. The partnership only files an information return.

King Of Gypsies Marries Off Son

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. — (AP) The 15-year-old bride was shy and tearful — after all, she had never seen the groom before — but she was faultlessly dressed for the big moment in her life.

It was the royal Gypsy wedding of the son of Mike Davis, "King" of Romanian tribes in Florida, and hundreds of Sunday motorists had a ringside seat as the bride turned on the music and wound up two days of celebration with the nuptials.

After the brief ceremony, she retired to the semi-seclusion of a trailer awning while the groom joined other teenagers at a blaring juke box and apparently forgot about the whole thing.

The marriage between John Davis, 16, and pretty, bespangled Katherine Johnson of Baltimore, had been arranged by their father more than ten years ago.

Gypsies, says King Davis, believe "blind" marriages are best. In any case, there is no divorce. When a marriage fails, husband and wife return to the homes of their parents and cannot wed again within the tribe.

Rich Planter, 97, Outlives Money

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (AP) — "My one mistake was that I outlived my money."

That's how 97-year-old Thomas Linton McCullough sums up his fate which tumbled him from a once-wealthy cotton planter to a broke nonagenarian living in a boarding house on a $50-a-month old age pension.

Before he retired 22 years ago, McCullough built up a fabulous fortune which kept the wolf away from his door until six months ago. That's when the money ran out.

McCullough, still an erect figure with a flowing white beard, explains it this way:

"Both my mother and father died at 72 and I reckoned I couldn't exceed this by more than eight years."

So, at the age of 75, he retired with what he thought was enough money in the bank to last him the rest of his life.

At 80, McCullough revealed, he bought an airplane for "one last fling" across the continent, into Mexico and South America.

"I figured three or four more years would take me out."

But when he returned three years later, he was still going strong.

Propose Rink In School Area

The Manistique Board of Education at its regular meeting tonight is expected to act on a request from the City Recreation Commission for permission to use part of the Central school playground for a junior hockey rink.

The proposed rink would be located in the corner of the area across from the school shop department and adjoining Maple avenue.

Proposed location of the rink in the center of the public skating area in Central Park was rejected by the recreation commission at its meeting Saturday in favor of the playground site.

The commission, however, approved construction of the rink and authorized T. H. Reque, recreation director, to proceed with the project.

If the school board turns down the commission request, the rink will be developed at Central park as initially planned, it is reported. The rink will be walled with boards four feet high, with an additional eight feet of chicken wire at each end.

Movie-Goers Searched For Grenades, Bombs

SAIGON, Indochina — (AP) — Movie-goers here who look suspicious or are non-European are now searched by attendants as they enter movie houses.

This is done because it used to be a favorite trick of terrorists to hurl a grenade or other explosive into crowds just entering or leaving a theater. There were also explosions inside the theaters themselves.

URGENT!

To avoid disappointment all guests at the banquet honoring the new owners of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Company, the Kerney Brothers, should avail themselves of tickets prior to the banquet Wednesday, January 9. Tickets are on sale at First National Bank, State Savings Bank, R. G. Hentschell and Chamber of Commerce. Wives and friends are invited. Tickets $2.

He is easily above-the-average man who is making only an average salary. He has personality and ability of talking to people. Selling comes naturally to him. He is conscientious, hard-working and anxious to get ahead. He is a man between the ages of 25 and 45 who thinks he has wonderful possibilities and dreams of the day he will be earning more than just a comfortable income. With all these qualities, you feel that all he needs is the opportunity. If you knew just where he could earn from $3000 to $5000 a year, you'd be the first to tell him about it. It is with a feeling of sincere gratitude that we take this means of expressing our deep appreciation and thanks to all of our neighbors, relatives and friends for their kindnesses shown us in our recent sad bereavement, the reburial of our son and brother, Edward Gayenberg. We are very grateful to those who served as pallbearers, the American Legion, to the Nahma Civic Center, to those who offered the use of their cars, sent spiritual bouquets, and to others who in any way helped to lighten our burden of sorrow. Your kindness will always be held in grateful remembrance.

In memory of our dearly beloved husband, father and grandfather, Toivo Maki, who died one year ago today, January 8, 1950.

Our hearts still ache with loneliness. Our eyes shed many tears. God alone knows how we miss you. As it ends the first sad year.

One morning you left us so quickly. God called and you had to go. There was no time for farewells. And, Dear, we miss you so.

You were always so kind and thoughtful. So steady and so true. We miss your smile so cheerful. And we will always be loving you.

Sadly missed by
Wife, Children and Grandchildren.

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Matthew Thoma, who passed away two years ago today, January 8, 1950.

The moon and stars are shining on a low and silent grave. Beneath them lies one dearly loved, and whom we could not save. He left behind some broken hearts that loved him most sincerely. That never did or never will forget you, husband and father, dear.

Sadly missed by
WIFE AND CHILDREN.

With Roy Crandall

We're sitting on a red hot baseball story that will give sports fans in Escanaba and neighboring communities a big boost next summer if the deal jells. A major league baseball club is considering bringing a week-long baseball school here in July. It's an American league organization that has never before, to our knowledge, been in the U. P. in a program of this type. Proof that the Upper Peninsula is regarded as a possible source of big league ball players. Two other major league organizations have held training schools at U. P. cities in past years.

That foreign ice jinx has finally been broken in Northern Michigan Hockey league circles. First team to post a win on the road was the Portage Lake sextet which nudged the Marquette Sentinels 8-6 at the Palestra last week. Escanaba's Hawks came close to duplicating the feat at Calumet by playing the Radars to a 2-2 tie Saturday night. Up to the Portage Lake-Marquette game, the home team had come out on top in seven straight tilts.

Here's a belated welcome extended to Phil Brazeau who is taking a turn at writing sports for the Gladstone Reporter. One of this area's all time athletic greats, Brazeau is well acquainted with the local sports scene. He's turning out a twice-weekly column, Sports Shots, for the Gladstone paper. Now Phil will know what we meant when we hollered all last summer for Tri County league baseball managers to get those score sheets in early.

Al Kircher, former Gladstone athletic star, got his coaching start in the Upper Peninsula. A graduate of Michigan State College in 1934, Kircher won Spartan letters in baseball, basketball and football. Following his graduation he began coaching at Trout Creek where his cage teams won two U. P. titles in three years. Kircher moved to Graveland high school in Marquette in 1937. His next stop was back at Michigan State where he served as assistant varsity coach in basketball, baseball and football before entering service in 1941. Out of the Army, Kircher returned to East Lansing and was advanced to head basketball coach before moving to Washington State. It was announced yesterday that Kircher would transfer with Head Coach Forest Evashevski to the University of Iowa as varsity backfield mentor.

Manistique Top Team In Great Lakes Conference

Coach Bob Hussey's Manistique Emeralds took over the top rung in the Great Lakes cage conference ladder last Friday night by trimming Newberry's Indians 48-29 for their third straight conference victory.

Also unbeaten in Great Lakes play is Ishpeming with two wins. Manistique plays a non-conference game with Soo Ontario Friday night while Ishpeming tangles with Marquette Friday and Newberry Saturday in league outings.

Three-Way Playoff In Los Angeles Open Golf Tourney

LOS ANGELES—(P)—The Los Angeles Open golf tournament went into a three-way playoff today with Dutch Harrison pitting his long experience against a couple of graduates of the youth and enthusiasm school.

At stake were the three top prizes in the $17,500 tourney, $4,000 to first, $2,500 to second, $1,600 to third.

Jack Burke Jr. of Houston and Tommy Bolt, of Durham, N. C., who together probably haven't played as many tournament rounds as Harrison, won their diplomas by finishing with 289s, five over par, to join the Dutchman in the top bracket at the finish of the regulation 72 holes yesterday.

The final round over Riviera 20-year par 71 course, started with Ted Kroll, another 32-year-old, in the lead. Harrison was one stroke behind, Burke and Bolt three. At the half-way point, Kroll was still on top, but Burke was one stroke back, Harrison three and Bolt four.

Denver Takes First Place In Ice League

DENVER—(P)—Denver stood in top spot of the Midwest Collegiate Hockey league today after walloping Michigan State last night 8-2.

The Spartans will be out to avenge the defeat when the two teams meet again tonight in the second of the two-game series.

The two MSC goals were scored last night by Harold Passerini and Bill McCormick. The Pioneers bottled up the Spartan attack most of the time in the rough contest. Dave Wylie knocked in three of Denver's goals for the hat trick.

Connolly No. 1 Woman Athlete

NEW YORK—(P)—Energistic Maureen Connolly, the second youngest player ever to win the National Tennis championship, was chosen female athlete of the year for 1951 in the annual Associated Press poll.

The applecheeked, blue-eyed blonde from San Diego, who captured the tennis crown at Forest Hills just 12 days before her 17th birthday, beat out Florence Chadwick, the English channel swimmer, and Mrs. Mildred Babe Didrikson Zaharias, a five-time winner in these yearly polls.

Little Mo received 81 first place votes out of the 206 cast by sports writers and sportscasters from coast to coast and a total of 366 points. Miss Chadwick, the attractive ex-steno from San Diego who now is the swimming pro at the Grossinger (NY) Country club, was second with 287 points and 57 first place nominations. Mrs. Zaharias, leading money winner among the female golf swingers and named woman golfer of the year, was third with 258 points and 47 first places.

Spartans Rack Up 82-49 Win Over Northwestern

EAST LANSING, Mich.—(P)—Michigan State put on a run-away scoring spree to down Northwestern 82-49 for its first Western conference basketball win of the season watched by 8,184 here last night.

The Spartans burned up the boards to go ahead 23-13 at the quarter and had a 46-26 advantage at the half, and led 63-37 going into the final period.

Michigan State racked up 35 field goals to 16 for the opposition, 20 of them in the first half.

Even in the last period, when Coach Pete Newell cleared his bench of all the freshmen and third-stringers in uniform, MSC outscored Northwestern, 19-12.

Spartan Center Bob Carey, who worked only half the game, was high with 14 points. Forward Keith Stackhouse had 12 points and guards Rickey Ayala and Gordon Stauffer made nine each for the winners.

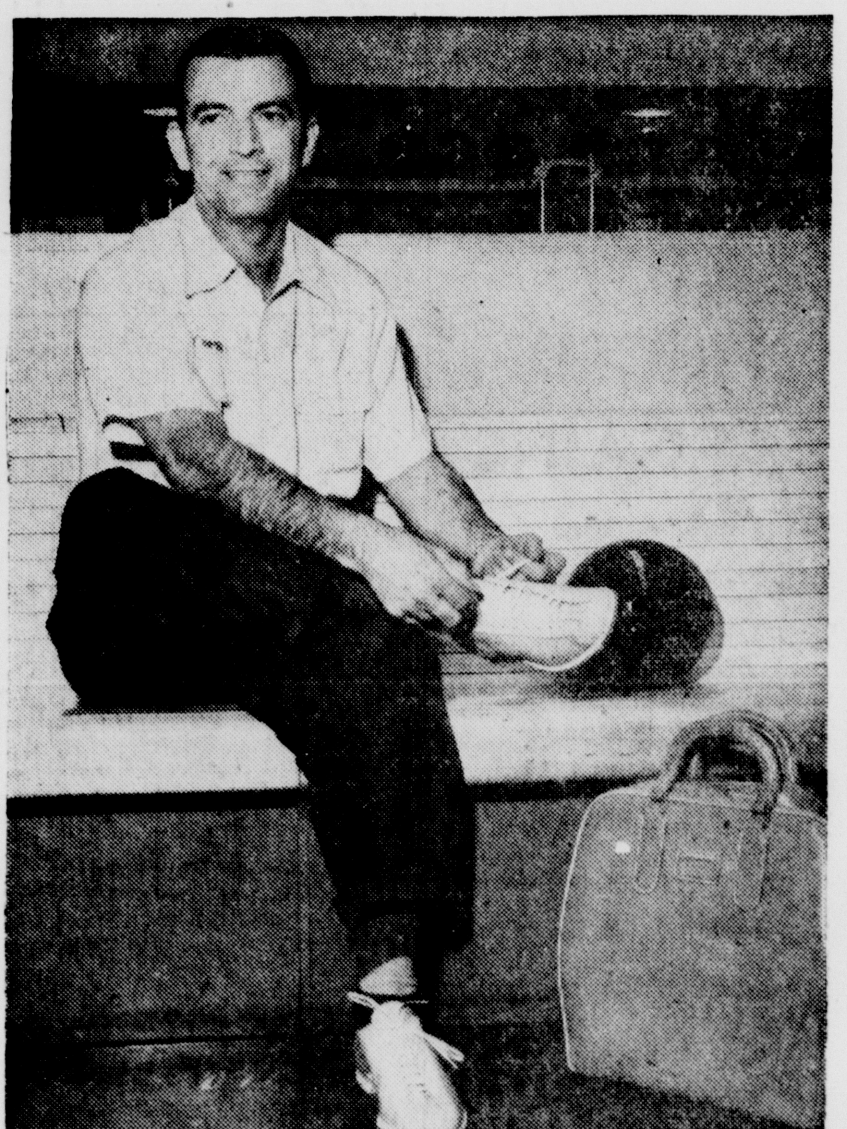

Both teams now have .500 rating after two games of conference play. Michigan State has won 8 and lost 1, the single defeat a 61-60 edging by Iowa. Northwestern has lost 5 and won 3, the victories including its 75-70 win over Ohio State.

Bomar Urges Bowlers To Have Their Own Ball, Bag And Shoes

CUSTOM-FITTED—Only by constantly using the same equipment can you progress, says Buddy Bomar. (NEA)

First of an instructive series written and illustrated for NEA Service

By BUDDY BOMAR
Former Match-Game Champion

It's possible to bowl without owning any equipment.

Your bowling proprietor has balls you can use and shoes you can rent.

If you are serious about improving your score, however, or want to enjoy the sport to the fullest, buy your own ball, bag and shoes.

Only by constantly using the same equipment can you make definite progress.

Your alley proprietor will help select the proper equipment to fit your needs and wallet.

He will see that a ball is custom-fitted to your hand with the proper size thumb and finger holes and finger span.

Using a ball which has not been custom-fitted, you are almost certain to run into difficulties. Finger or thumb holes of the wrong size put additional strain on your fingers, wrist or arm, prevent you from scoring well and enjoying bowling as you should.

Selecting street shoes, you certainly insist on a comfortable fit, don't you? There's no difference in choosing bowling shoes.

While the bag is not necessary to improve your game, it is a convenience in carrying your ball and shoes.

Just as every golfer knows he can't develop his game to any extent without his own clubs, you cannot expect to improve your bowling very greatly without proper equipment.

Hawks Entertain Rough Radar Six Wednesday Nite

The rugged Radars of Calumet, led by such veterans as Frank Gresnick, Reuben Parske and Don Nichols, will invade the fairgrounds indoor rink tomorrow night to meet the Escanaba Hawks in a Northern Michigan Hockey league game. The opening face-off will be at 8:15.

This clash constitutes a real treat for puck fans of the Delta. School-craft and Menominee county area. Calumet and Escanaba met last Saturday night in Calumet and the outcome was a 2-2 deadlock in which a Copper Country fans described as "one of the best games played there in many years."

"It was ice hockey at its best," one dyed-in-the-wool fan told Escanaba players after the game. "You've got a real team that should go far before this season is over." The game was marked by tight defensive play, quick clearing of the puck, fast breaking offensive plays, accurate passing and general heads-up performances.

More Body Contact

More of the same is promised here tomorrow night, with perhaps a bit more bodily contact thrown in for good measure because of Escanaba's smaller rink.

Manager Waino Petaja likely start his punch line of Mark Olson and Joe Ricci and Jerry Tagliabracchi and George Petaja on defense and Old Reliable, Ben Artwich, in the nets. Performing on the alternate line will be Guy Poce, B u d d y Provo and Dave Serbinski, a n d the fast improving "kid" line of Les Young, Neil Sinclair and Billy Bovin is sure to see plenty of action.

Ed Broughton, Lolly Rose and Carl Eastman will alternate on defense.

Incidentally, the Gladstone trio of Bovin, Young and Sinclair, which set the pace in the welcome 9-2 conquest of Marquette last Wednesday night, was an important factor in the tie with Calumet Saturday. They took their regular turn on the ice and more than held their own.

Fast Back Checking
"One thing stood out in that

Garden Posts 41-29 Win Over Gulliver

MANISTIQUE—Garden broke loose with 24 points in the second half to whip Gulliver here last night by a 41-29 count.

The game was close in the first half, with the lead changing hands a number of times. The score was tied 17-17 at half.

Wallace Morin of Garden snared high point honors with 13. Tom Tyrell and Jim Rodgers led the losers with 11 and 10 points.

Field Goal By Sub Guard Is Big One

NEW YORK—(P)—The list of the nation's major unbeaten college basketball teams had dwindled to 9 today because a substitute guard sank a field goal in the last second of play.

That goal by Dick Dawe gave Ohio State's Buckeyes at 73-72 victory over the previously all-conquering Hoosiers from Indiana and the nation's fourth ranked team last night. Indiana had won eight straight.

Calumet game." Coach Olson said after last night's workout at the Escanaba rink.

"The forwards were back checking, and believe me that's important, especially on Calumet's big ice. Some times they back checked so fast that they caught the Calumet forwards in center ice before they reached our defensive zone.

"If we keep on working like that we'll go places, but we've got to keep digging all the time."

Escanaba always has plenty of respect for Calumet. "Puppy" Gresnick, the bald-headed marvel of Calumet hockey, pairs with Parske and Pete Lehto to form a very tricky first line. Flash Kesanen and Whitey Juopperi work at defense and Frank Sotlich, Radar goalie, is regarded as one of the top net minders in the league.

Nichols Is Star

Don Nichols, who has played with Eveleth, Minn., in past years and just missed making the United States Olympic team in the recent tryouts, is a burly Calumet defenseman who skates hard, stick handles well and often comes through with a score. Mort Wiinamaki and John Dahlgren are other capable Calumet puckmen.

With one victory, two losses and a tie to date, Escanaba's Hawks are determined to go all out to chalk up a win over Calumet tomorrow night and gain a .500 rating.

Mel Bertrand, Escanaba, and Jacob Musich, Calumet, will officiate.

No Change In Grid Substitution Rule Planned By Coaches

CINCINNATI — (P) — College football coaches take their annual swing at the rule book today with all indications they won't mess with the two-platoon system.

Columbia Lou Little's rules committee meets to make up a list of recommendations to be presented to the actual rules-writing body, which convenes next week at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Here's what the coaches probably will recommend:

Change Clipping Call

1. Don't tamper with the free substitution rule.

2. Raise the penalty for flagrant roughness from 15 yards to half the distance to the goal.

3. Change the clipping rule to make any blow on an opposing player's back an infraction.

4. Clarify the signal for the fair catch.

"These are the main points to be brought up as a result of our questionnaire," said Little.

"Sentiment seems overwhelmingly in favor of the present substitution rule and there seems a strong trend toward trying to get some of the unnecessary roughness out of football."

The present substitution rule, criticized by some as favorable to big time teams at the expense of less wealthy institutions, permits a coach to insert a full team any time the clock is stopped. This allows specialized offensive and defensive units to be thrown in each time the ball changes hands.

Toughen Roughing Penalty

The rule to impose a stronger penalty for unnecessary roughness was suggested by Princeton's coach Charley Caldwell after the rough-and-tumble game with Dartmouth in which 11 players, including Princeton's All-American Dick Zazmaier, were injured.

The present rule calls for a 15-yard penalty against an offending team.

The fair catch rule may be reworded to demand that a player signalling a fair catch extend his arm at full length and hold it still. This would eliminate the present rule requiring that the arm be waved on the fair catch signal.

Four Browns Named To All-Pro Football Team

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor
NEW YORK — (AP) — Four members of the Cleveland Browns today were selected for The Associated Press All-Pro football team. With the days of the 50 and 60-minute player apparently doomed, a two-plate team was chosen for the first time.

The Los Angeles Rams, national conference divisional winners with an 8-4 record and 24-17 victor over the Browns in the National Football League playoff, placed three stars on the 22-man squad.

The Browns, with an 11-1 record in the American Conference of the circuit, placed Quarterback Otto Graham and Halfback Dub Jones on the offensive platoon and Guard Bill Willis and End Len Ford on the defensive eleven.

Champion Rams who made the team were their great end, Elroy (Crazy Legs) Hirsch, on offense, and defensive end Larry Brink and Linebacker Paul (Tank) Younger.

The Detroit Lions, who lost their chance to get into the playoff by losing to the San Francisco 49ers the final week of the regular season, placed three men on the offensive eleven. They were Guard Lou Creekmur, End Leon Hart and Halfback Doak Walker.

The rest of the offensive team included players from four other clubs. Besides Hirsch, Graham, Jones and the three Lions the tackle George Connor and Guard Dick Barwagan of the Chicago Bears. Tackle Leo Nomellini of the 49ers, Center Vic Lindskog of the Philadelphia Eagles and Fullback Eddie Price of the New York Giants.

The defensive platoon, besides the two Rams and two Browns, included Tackles Arnie Weinmeister and Al DeRogatis, Halfback Otto Schnellbacher and Safety Emlen Tunnell of the Giants; Guard Les Bingaman of the Lions, Linebacker Chuck Bednarik of the Eagles and Pittsburgh Jerry Shipkey of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The All-Pro team of 22 players includes five repeaters of 1950: Walker, Barwagan, Connor, Weinmeister and Bednarik. The selection of Barwagan marks his fourth straight year on the team. Before playing with the Bears in 1950 he was with the Baltimore Colts.

Weinmeister, great Giant tackle and former Yankee, has made the team three straight seasons while Graham, Cleveland's tricky T quarterback, has been selected four of the last five campaigns.

The best vote getter on the team was the 27-year-old end Hirsch from Berea, O., a fellow who saw service as a halfback at Michigan and Wisconsin and also for the defunct Chicago Rockets.

One-Two Punch Leads Scoring

MONTREAL — (AP) — Elmer Lach and Maurice Richard, the veteran "one-two" punch of the Montreal Canadiens, hog the National Hockey league's offensive honors.

Lach tops the individual scoring parade with 37 points and leads the field in assists with 28 according to league statistics covering games through Sunday. Richard is second in the point derby with 36 and is the league's ace sniper with 21 goals.

Terry Sawchuk, the young net-minder of the high-flying Detroit Red Wings, is the league's top goalie. Sawchuk has permitted only 66 goals in 37 games for a sparkling 1.78 average and also leads in shutouts with seven.

Hard-hitting Gus Kyle, Boston defenseman, is the league's most penalized player with 87 minutes.

Detroit Coach Picks Stars Of North Gridders

MOBILE, Ala.—(AP)—If Coach Buddy Parker of the Detroit Lions could pick the college seniors he'd like for his club, these are the ones they'd be:

Drugstore Holdups May Follow Cleanup Of Dope Peddlers

NEW YORK — (AP) — The current crackdown on illegal narcotics suppliers may result in more drugstore holdups.

James C. Ryan, New York district supervisor of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, predicted a wave of holdups and forced prescriptions.

His reasoning: Narcotics users, their supply sources cut off, will resort to desperate means to get the drugs.

He made his statement after a roundup of scores of narcotics sellers here over the weekend. Similar roundups were made elsewhere over the country.

Isotopes Produced To Fight Cancer

NEW YORK — (AP) — The country's peace-time atomic oven — the reactor at Brookhaven, N. Y. — is turning out radioactive isotopes to fight cancer and help in medical experiments.

It was announced recently that the reactor, in operation about a year, has been producing its short-lived atoms for Boston and other places near to New York.

But the reactor at Oak Ridge, Tenn., still makes most of the nation's supply of these atoms.

Press Poll Names Yankee Baseballers Team Of Year

NEW YORK — (AP)—For the second straight year the New York Yankees baseball club was picked as the team of the year in the annual Associated Press poll.

The Yanks, who swept to their third straight American league and World Series triumph under Manager Casey Stengel, beat out the New York Giants in the poll just as they did in the series.

Casey's club received 53 first place votes and 305 points on a 3-2-1 basis to finish 56 points ahead of the Giants whose stirring comeback captured the imagination of writers and fans everywhere. Leo Durocher's team was named first by 52 of the 214 sports writers and sportscasters who took part in the poll. The Giants collected 251 points.

Browns, Third
Cleveland's Browns beaten in the National Football league championship playoff by the Los Angeles Rams, were selected for third place with 48 first-place votes and 249 points. Most of the ballots were in before the playoff and before the New Year's Day bowl games.

Thus Tennessee, voted the No. 1 college football team of the past season in the AP poll, finished fourth with 138 points while the Vols' conquerors Maryland's Terrapins, wound up tenth with 28 points.

Michigan State's No. 2 footballers, who were unbeaten in nine games, took fifth place with 60 points. Kentucky's NCAA basketball champions were fifth (46) followed by Princeton's Ivy League football kingpins (41); Illinois' Big Ten and Rose Bowl champs (34); Stanford's Pacific Coast conference champions (31) and Maryland.

Los Angeles' Rams were 11th with 24 votes.

Mention Red Wings
Other teams mentioned for first place included the U. S. Ryder Cup golf team which beat the English again; the Detroit Red Wings, National Hockey league pennant winners but also-rans in the Stanley Cup playoffs; the Chicago White Sox who made a gallant first half season bid in the American league and the Harlem Globetrotters, the fabulous, world travelling Negro basketball team.

Two first place votes were registered for New York District Attorney Frank Hogan and his staff for exposing the college basketball scandals.

Youthful Detroit Pitcher Signed By Philadelphia

DETROIT — (AP)—John McGroarty, 18-year-old southpaw pitcher who had 22 victories, including four no-hitters, in high school baseball competition, was signed by the Philadelphia Athletics last night.

McGroarty, who graduated from suburban Centerline high last June, is considered one of the outstanding prep stars in the Detroit area and was sought by seven other major league clubs, including the Detroit Tigers.

Herb Strunk, talent scout for the American league Philadelphia team, signed him. No salary terms were announced, but Strunk said there was an agreement that McGroarty cannot be farmed out to a club lower than class B.

The youthful pitcher, who struck out 306 in 156½ innings in high school, will train with the Athletics this spring and then join Savannah in the Class A Sally league. Last summer he played for Storm Lake in the Iowa State semi-pro league. He stands 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 180 pounds.

Sets Individual Scoring Mark As Team Loses Game

DES MOINES — (AP) — Norm Swanson, fleet University of Detroit center, had marked up an all-time school basketball scoring record today although his team dropped a 68-61 decision to Drake last night.

Swanson shot home 26 points to make his collegiate total of 986. Detroit's old mark was 965, set by John Kirwan in four seasons of play ending last season.

Swanson, who played only half a season as a junior last year because he was ineligible scholastically in his second semester, still has the rest of this season to play. His total so far this year is 211 points.

Kansas Jayhawks Retain Top Spot In AP Cage Poll

NEW YORK — (AP) — The University of Kansas Jayhawks remained the No. 1 college basketball team for the second straight week today in the nation-wide Associated Press poll—but Illinois is hanging on closely in second place.

Kansas, which replaced Kentucky as the leader a week ago, has only one game this week, playing at Missouri Saturday night. The Jayhawks defeated

Missouri in the finals of the Big Seven tournament last month, 75-65, and figure to roll on undefeated to their 12th straight victory.

Two Newcomers
There were two newcomers to the top 10, Seton Hall moving into the No. 9 spot from No. 11, and Iowa taking over No. 10, after being No. 12. St. John's of Brooklyn, beaten only by Kentucky, managed to edge St. Joseph's of Philadelphia Saturday, 59-57, and skidded from No. 8 to No. 12. New York University, clouted by West Virginia, 100-75, dropped from No. 6 to 13.

Iowa made it 9-0 by defeating Michigan last night, 54-46, but Indiana, No. 4 in the poll behind Kentucky, was handed its first loss of the season, a 73-72 upset at the hands of Ohio State. Kentucky won its ninth game against two losses by trouncing Xavier (Ohio) 83-50. Seton Hall raked Boston College, 80-48, for its tenth victory without defeat, last week, then made it 11-0 by blasting St. Peter's of Jersey City last night, 84-61.

St. Louis Climbs

St. Louis, with victories over Houston and LaSalle, jumped from seventh to the No. 5 spot, while Washington split a pair with Idaho last week and dropped from No. 3 to No. 6. Kansas State defeated Arizona and advanced from No. 9 to No. 7, while St. Bonaventure moved from No. 10 to No. 8, after beating Westminster, Pa.

Team standings with points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 bases (first place votes in parentheses):

Huge Fish Fry Marks Fish Week In Chile

ROME — (AP) — A whale-sized fish fry has just been reported from Chile.

Vendors on top of Santa Lucia Hill, outside Santiago, sold 75,000 pounds of fried fish—mostly hake—to the 250,000 visitors attracted there by Chile's fish week exhibits. Thousands of pounds more were distributed free to the poor in Santiago.

A report on the big fish fry was sent here to the fisheries division of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the U. N. The Chilean government put on the fish week to boost interest in fishing and in fish as food.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

CINCINNATI — (AP) — If the restricted sports seasons go through as proposed by the college presidents' committee in Washington, you might as well throw college baseball right out the window. . . . The baseball coaches were not the only ones to emit anguished wails when the news reached here, but they seemed to be hurting the most. . . . They've been working hard to build up their national tournament and the presidents' plan would rule it out entirely. . . . And as Prexy Art Reichle of the American Association of College Baseball coaches pointed out, 90 per cent of the college ball players want to become pros and losing the tournament might cost them a chance to show their stuff before pro scouts. . . . In addition to that, the scouts would have all the more reason to grab a promising prospect off the campus instead of waiting until after graduation. They'd have a good argument that the colleges weren't doing anything to advance the boy's baseball career. . . .

Surprising, the hottest subject in off-the-record discussions among the National Collegiate A. A. bigwigs wasn't the ban on athletic scholarships or limited seasons but the recommendation that junior college athletes couldn't be immediately eligible for competition. . . . In some sections, at least, most kids attend junior colleges first and the consensus seemed to be that the prexies were caught off base on that decision.

Towing Slowed For Split Ship

By LEONARD LEDDINGTON
ON THE ATLANTIC WITH THE FLYING ENTERPRISE—(AP)—Capt. Kurt Carlsen's storm-cracked ship, Flying Enterprise, began zig-zagging erratically at the end of its steel towing leash early today, forcing a further slowdown in its snail's pace journey to Falmouth about 100 miles away.

The 6,711-ton vessel, tilted almost flat on its port side, thrashed out to the side as the tow cable slackened periodically. It was not believed to be in any real danger, however.

This sheering movement caused the 4,000-horsepower tug Turnoil, which is pulling the Flying Enterprise to port, to slacken speed. The little convoy was not expected to reach Falmouth before Wednesday noon, and perhaps later.

The swerving was blamed on calmer seas. The Atlantic weather was more like April than January, with a gentle southwest breeze and a low swell.

Somewhat heavier seas had previously kept the Flying Enterprise at the end of a taut tow cable. Today it just floundered about on its 750-yard tether.

The slow, dangerous trip to port began Saturday, about 300 miles west of the English coast. By the time Capt. Dan Parker's tug got a line aboard, Carlsen had drifted alone for a week on the ship he refused to abandon after the worst Atlantic storm in half a century cracked it across the middle.

New Straits Ferry Has Engine Trouble

LANSING — The State Highway Department today set Thursday morning as the tentative departure time for the Straits of its new ice breaker-ferry Vacationland.

But there was an indication that there might be further delays before the $460,000 ferry is able to start hauling passengers and cars between the two peninsulas.

At River Rouge, a spokesman for the Great Lakes Engineering Works, which constructed the vessel admitted there was "one trouble" with the main engine.

The Vacationland underwent a series of "dock runs" last week to test the engines. Yesterday it went on a shakedown cruise on the Detroit river.

Luxury Automobile Theft Ring Smashed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The FBI announced today the arrest of eight persons in what it described as the smashing of an international series of car theft rings specializing in luxury automobiles.

Seven were arrested in New York and one in Hoboken, N. J., and charged with interstate transportation of stolen motor vehicles.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the rings dealt in the latest special deluxe Cadillacs. He said many of them were sold in Cuba, Mexico, Venezuela, and other countries for prices as high as $7,500.

Hoover also said 14 persons had been arrested earlier during the investigation. He said the rings' activities involved 94 luxury cars of which 66 have been recovered so far. He predicted additional recoveries in the near future.

Milwaukee Road Decision Upheld

LANSING — (AP) — The State Supreme Court has upheld a lower court decision vacating an order to the Milwaukee Road to increase Upper Peninsula passenger railroad service.

The opinion held that the State Public Service commission order of 1947 sought to interfere with interstate commerce.

In order to increase service to Marquette, Houghton, Escanaba and Calumet the commission ordered the Milwaukee Road to operate a second passenger train between Channing and Champion to connect with the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railroad. The train originates in Chicago.

The Milwaukee Road, claiming the additional operation would cost $51,644 a year on an operation on which it was already losing money, appealed to the Ingham county circuit court.

The lower court vacated the order and the supreme court by an unanimous decision upheld the ruling.

"Although intra-state commerce may be benefited," the opinion said, "the plan ordered by the commission is primarily an attempt to regulate interstate commerce by increasing the facilities for travel between the Upper Peninsula and points in other states."

The new senator, Fred A. Seaton (R-Neb.) replaces the late Kenneth Wherry (R-Neb.), whose death during the recess left vacant the post of Senate minority leader. Senate Republicans meet today to pick a new leader, with Senator Bridges of New Hampshire and pre-session favorite.

The session may last until October, with time out in July for the national nominating conventions, was predicted by House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts and his top assistant, Rep. Halleck of Indiana.

The tedious job of handling appropriations, plus plans for continuing investigations to ferret out "corruption in government," Martin told newsmen, is likely to delay adjournment.

House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts conceded that Republicans will "set the pace" for the session insofar as adjournment is concerned. The Republicans and Southern Democrats hostile to President Truman dominate both Senate and House.

"I personally would like to see a long session," McCormack said. "We had a long one in 1948 and it was very helpful to the Democratic party. If the Republicans say it will be a long session, the chances are it will be."

McCormack and Martin agreed that the major issues will be foreign aid, UMT and appropriations, with Martin adding "corruption" to the list.

Cool Toward UMT Martin predicted no tax increases will be voted, and McCormack agreed it would be "very difficult" to pass a tax bill. There is no certainty that the president will request new taxes, even though Congress last year gave him far less than he sought.

There was general agreement, too, that the defense production act, under which wages, prices and rents are controlled, would be extended beyond June 30, but without substantial changes.

Continuance of foreign aid also was taken for granted, but a stiff fight is in prospect over the amount to be spent and where. Strong sentiment is developing for more help for the Far East and for a drastic curtailment of economic aid as distinguished from military aid.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate foreign relations committee called for a continued build-up in the military strength of friendly nations but "radical" cuts in economic aid for Western Europe.

Election Year Term May Run Until October

From President Truman's state-of-the-union message tomorrow, Democrats hope to obtain some clue as to whether Mr. Truman will seek reelection and if not, the issues on which the Democrats will be expected to base their campaign.

Three Messages They expect the President to ask for many things congress has refused to give him in the past. They remember that just four years ago President Truman snatched election victory from seeming defeat by pounding away at congress' failure to enact his program.

Tomorrow's message will be the first of three from the President. The others, on domestic economy and the budget, will follow within two weeks. The budget message is expected to call for an estimated $3 billion dollars during the fiscal year starting July 1.

The first few weeks of the session probably will be spent getting squared away for action and digesting the President's recommendations. This interlude will give six new representatives and a new senator a chance to get themselves oriented.

The new senator, Fred A. Seaton (R-Neb.) replaces the late Kenneth Wherry (R-Neb.), whose death during the recess left vacant the post of Senate minority leader. Senate Republicans meet today to pick a new leader, with Senator Bridges of New Hampshire and pre-session favorite.

The first big fight may come over UMT. Under any name, UMT has never been popular in Congress, and its appeal is even less in an election year.

Atlantic City Blaze Runs Out Of Control; Loss Near $4,000,000

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — (AP) — Fire officials estimate that damage from the spectacular blaze which raged out of control for more than four hours through two blocks of this resort city "might go as high as $4,000,000."

Flames, whipped into a frenzy by a 40-mile-an-hour wind, destroyed hotels, rooming houses, shops and a theater on or near the famed Boardwalk yesterday.

Eighteen persons, including firemen, policemen and others, were slightly injured during the fire, termed one of the worst in the seashore resort's history.

A theater, shops, and a large part of the St. Charles hotel on the Boardwalk were gutted by the spreading flames. The blaze leveled three frame hotels and nine spacious rooming houses near the Boardwalk.

Damage to the Boardwalk itself was slight. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Snowstorm Sweeps In From Iowa With Stiff 25-Mile Wind

(By The Associated Press)

A new storm swept on Michigan today.

Snow to a depth of six inches was indicated, and the U. S. weather bureau at East Lansing issued a special storm warning.

The storm, carried on winds of 20 to 25 miles an hour, swept in from Iowa. It was expected to continue into tonight.

Mild temperatures prevailed generally. In far southern Michigan the snow threatened to turn to rain and sleet.

The nation got a variety of weather, including rain, sleet and snow in the midwest and rain in southern Illinois and the lower Ohio valley.

Colorado's snow storm had left 14 inches in mountain areas.

Marenisco Woman Denied Compensation For Attack By Deer

LANSING — (AP) — You can't collect workmen's compensation if you walk in the woods during time off and get attacked by a deer.

Surprised? That's what the state supreme court says.

The court described as "fantastic" a decision of the State Workmen's Compensation commission awarding compensation to Mrs. Esther Saily, 44, of Marenisco.

A dishwasher at the 500 Bushel Club at Lake Gogebic, Mrs. Saily went for a walk in her offtime. A pet deer knocked her down and injured her.

That's not being hurt "in the course of employment," the court said.

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK — (AP) — A short selling flurry set the stock market back moderately today but the decline was halted without serious downside damage.

Offerings apparently were a carry-over from yesterday's selling which pressed prices down heavily in the final hour.

Today's minus signs were almost entirely fractional with only a few leaders losing as much as a point. Plus signs were small and scattered.

Friends Of Potter Put Him On Spot

ports of scandals in the government.

Cool Toward U.N. Potter is a sharp critic of the administration's foreign policy. He voted against sending troops to Europe and the foreign aid bills. He takes General MacArthur's side against President Truman in the dispute over the Korean war. He has little enthusiasm for the United Nations.

Thus, if Potter were to be the Republican senatorial nominee, he could be expected to tangle with the prospective Democratic candidate, Senator Blair Moody, a down-the-line supporter of the Truman foreign policy.

Potter's views, it may be noted with interest, also are at variance with those of such other prominent Michigan Republicans as Auditor General John Martin and Arthur Vandenberg, Jr., son of the late senator.

Martin, a former Rhodes scholar who so far is the only avowed GOP senatorial contender, and Vandenberg are regarded as having leanings toward the internationalist wing of the GOP.

Another possible contender for the Republican nomination for senator is Mayor Paul Goebel of Grand Rapids. His foreign policy views are not generally known.

Against Tax Increase On the issues of taxes and governmental economy, Potter says his record is clear. He voted against the five billion dollar plus tax bill passed by the present Congress at its first session.

The council of state chambers of commerce listed Potter as among the first 10 on its list of most economy minded congressmen. Of the 14 bills voted for economy 13 times and was absent on the other occasion.

Although Potter lost both legs fighting in France, he even voted against a veterans pension measure which he believed was not in the public interest.

In the final analysis, Potter's decision on whether to run for senator will depend on how much support he is able to muster.

He told a reporter he will not run without backing by the state GOP organization. Republican leaders such as Arthur Summerfield, the national committeeman, are said to oppose Martin.

Vandenberg has been reported at various times as their first choice. Goebel, a former University of Michigan football star, also is said to have attracted their notice as one who would appeal to the voters.

Potter's chances for the nod, though probably scant, can't be entirely disregarded.

An increase in needed pine seedlings is expected in one national forest by closing the trapping season for martins. Squirrels eat pine seed, but martins eat squirrels.

GUN SHOTS AROUND CORNERS — Sgt. Donald D. Rector, of Muskegon, Mich., demonstrates in Detroit (Dec. 28) how a newly-developed barrel makes it possible to shoot around corners with a standard sub machinegun. The barrel, which fits on the Army's standard M-3 "grease gun," was developed at the Detroit Arsenal for use by tank crews and infantrymen. It fires a standard .45 caliber bullet at the rate of 450 rounds a minute. (Ap Wirephoto)
